Seventh-day Adventist Church
William E. Carpenter, Pastor
discussion, 'The Spirit and Power of Elijah'. Scripture— Malachi 4:5, 6 'Behold I will send you Elijah the prophet before the comin and the great and dreadful day of the Lord. And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children and the heart of the children to their fathers lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.'

Lets take a look at Elijah's background, said Pastor Carpenter. First, we observe that Elijah was a prophet of God, a man of official fervent prayer, unwavering and convincing, a man whom God used to bring about wonderful results back in the days of King Ahab when Isreal's spiritual life was at a very low ebb. God sent this spirit filled man with a message to reprove for their wickedness, and to warn of the coming drought and famine. We also see in I Kings 17 where miracles were performed by him, and for him."

I Kings 18:17 last part, when asked by Ahab 'Art thou he that troubleth Isreal? His answer proves The Spirit and Power of Elijah for he speaks with faith and assurance, the message God bade him speak, 'I have not troubled Isreal, but thou and thy father's house in that ye have forsaken the commandments of the Lord, and thou hast followed Baalim.'

There on Mount Carmel he won a great victory for all mankind that day as he determined the true God, and by prayer obtained rain. The Elijah message is the same today as it was in Ahab's day or in Malachi's time. John the Baptist, was to herald the time of Christ's first coming, and his work for lost humanity. Read Isaiah 49:3 Christ's testimony concerning John in Matt 21:13,14, was 'For all the prophets and the law prophesied unril John. 'And if ye will receive it this is Elias which was for to come.'' One possessing The Spirit and Power of Elijah'.

Christians in these latter days will sound the Elijah message throughout the whole earth as comprired in Rev. 14:6-12 calling all people back to worship the true God the creator. Thus preparing them for Christ's second coming.

Hear True Story Of Reformed Drug Addict

Rev. R. B. Baber, pastor of the New Testament Baptist Church, 14 & Hendricks St. Lynchburg, announces that Dr. Fred Garland, of Roanoke, Va., will begin a meeting on Sunday, Sept. 6 through the 16th each evening at 7:30. Mr. Garland a nationally known evangelist for the past twenty years has a story to tell.

A success as a teenager, with his own business at 17, reading his name in lights at 22 as a boy wonder producer of his first Broadway Scandels slipped to the lowest a man can go, having become addicted to heroin, the most powerful opiate known to medical science; after being mixed up in gangs in New York he slips a little farther, becoming a petty thief is arrested in one of New York's department stores. Taken to dreaded Tombs Prison and placed in the drug ward. He hears of a religious service in the prison chapel, feeling within himself he has gone too far to be redeemed, but he could not push aside the still "voice of God' decided to go to the chapel. There through the lips of a layman, he hears about a "land of beginning again", where one can start all over again for he learns that "If any man be in Christ Jesus, he is a new creature, old things pass away, behold all things become new. He graphically pictures how this really was the beginning of a New Life with Christ as his Saviour and Guide. After serving the minimum of his sentence he is paroled, yet not a free man, his left lung now enveloped with tuberculosis, he heads for his native state, Virginia, to die, doctors have given him less than six months to live, medical science enters three major operations, ten ribs are removed from his left side, nearly three more years of convalescing, then his discharge from a sanatorium he begins his ministry, for over twenty years now he has gone night and day as an evangelist. He is the author of several booklets, edits a religious monthly, "Voice of Truth," and is chairman of the Committee of twenty-one of the International Fellowship of Fundalmentalists. His life story on film will be shown one night during the meeting. Mr. Garland introduces himself with these words, "But by the grace of God, I am what I am."

Bring your family to hear this man of God. The New Testament Baptist Church Bus will be leaving Appomattox each evening at 6:30. This transportation is for all who wish to attend.

Editors Plan Centennial Theme

Susan O'Brien and Susan Burke, rising seniors and co-editors of the Traveler, Appomattox High annual, are planning a book with a Centennial theme. They're asking for old photos, engravings, pictures of former teachers, principals, and others, to reproduce in the 1965 edition of the annual. Several businessmen are planning to publish old pictures of their store fronts and other reminders of a bygone day. If you have items of interest to the Centennial and the annual, please get in touch with the "two Susans".

Cadet Graduates WAC Course

EVA C. MOORE

FORT MCCLELLAN, Ala. — Cadet Eva C. Moore, daughter of Mr. Louis Moore, R.F.D. 4, Appomattox, Va. today is an alumnae of the Eighth College Junior Course, an introduction to military life conducted annually here at the United Women's Army Corps Center.

She received a Certificate of Completion, presented by Colonel Emily C. Gorman, Women's Army Corps Director, in ceremonies marking the end of the four-week orientation program for the military training and social life of a WAC officer.

Cadet Moore, a student at Longwood College, Farmville, Va. was among 100 young women representing 71 universities and colleges in 33 states who participated in this year's College Junior Course.

The program, open to women who have completed their junior year in college, gives an insight to life in the Army without obligation for future military service. After volunteering for the orientation, the women are called to active duty for one month in the Army Reserve and receive the pay of an E-4 (corporal) and are called Cadets.

Cadet Moore's first taste of military life included classes on military subjects and participation in inspections, parades, company duties, and field exercises.

A highlight of the program for Cadet Moore was the three-day trip to Fort Benning, Georgia, where the College Junior Cadets lived and trained as they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rolling and R. G., of Gretna, on Sunday.

Asks About Visit Of Bloodmobile

I, James B. Kearns, have carefully read the article of Dr. A. A. Fratrick. (See TIMES-VA Aug. 20 re:BLOODMOBILE quota.)

Several years ago I carried a large sign 'Have a Heart, Give Blood,' and did very good getting donors. But the next year I was a failure, for the people that gave blood — when they went to the hospital and received blood — had to replace the blood used, or pay for the same.

I met a group of 100 people and did not get one to fill out a Blood Donor Pledge Card. That is the day I found out why they would not sign the card.

If I am wrong I would like to have Dr. A. A. Fratrick put the people in Appomattox right about this Blood Donor Program. From what I can find out in Nelson County, that is the reason for the failure.

James B. Kearns
Gladstone, Va.

The TIMES-VIRGINIAN made inquiry of Dr. Fratrick about this with this answer.

POSITIVELY, no charge is made for Red Cross Blood. If a hospital does, it is by mistake and should be corrected. All persons living in an area under Red Cross Blood coverage are administered whatever amount of blood they may need at a saving of at least $25 per pint. Residents of Appomattox County were saved more than $2,000 through the Red Cross Blood program during 1963.

However, it is true that each hospital makes a SERVICE CHARGE, and rightly so, for administering the blood — a cost approximately $10 to $15 but this is NOT for the Blood, itself. In an area not covered by Red Cross this charge is made PLUS the cost of blood, about $35 a pint.

Also, it is true that those receiving blood are encouraged to ask their relatives and friends to give blood through the Red Cross program — in a sense replacing what was used by the patient — either more or less than was used.

An area not covered by the Red Corss Blood Program is the poorr for it. Lives are definitely saved, plus a large financial saving to all residents.

Any person in such an area may receive blood anywhere in the U.S. and have it replaced by the Red Cross free of charge.

The TIMES-VA would like to encourage Mr. Kearns to continue to secure donors.
